Saving Our Sons

“Crisis in America: The Voices of Our Sisters on the State of Men’s Health & Wellness”

Central Connecticut State University would like to formally invite you to attend our 5th Annual Healthyfellows: College Men’s Health Forum. The Man Enough Support Initiative has organized this forum in response to health, education, and social challenge facing male students. The program will bring together prominent Connecticut women, parents, educators, and social service providers for an honest and candid discussion about the state of male student health and wellness.

The title of this year’s forum is “Crisis in America: The Voices of Our Sisters on the State of Men’s Health & Wellness”. Guest Panelist include: Dr. Jewel Mullen, CT. Public Health Commissioner, Jesse White-Frese, Executive Director of CT. Association of School Based Health Clinics, Rebecca Santiago, Public Health Nurse Curtis D. Robinson Men’s Health Institute, Bonnie Goulet, Counselor, Center for Academic Planning and Student Success Naugatuck Valley Community College Connecticut, and moderator Rayna Dunham, CCSU student.

Parent, educators, social workers, counselors, and those who are committed to improving success outcomes for male students are strongly encouraged to attend this important event.
